If there was ever a year to refresh your home, 2021 is it.

Your home probably means more to you than it has done before. Whether your living room has been working overtime as an office or your dining room has doubled-up as a 5-star restaurant. It's really been there for you in the past year.

Now it's time to return the love. In our 2021 Colour Lookbook, you'll find the colour schemes and interior trends to inspire your decorating and make your spaces as beautiful and functional as possible.

Dulux Colour of the Year

Brave GroundTM

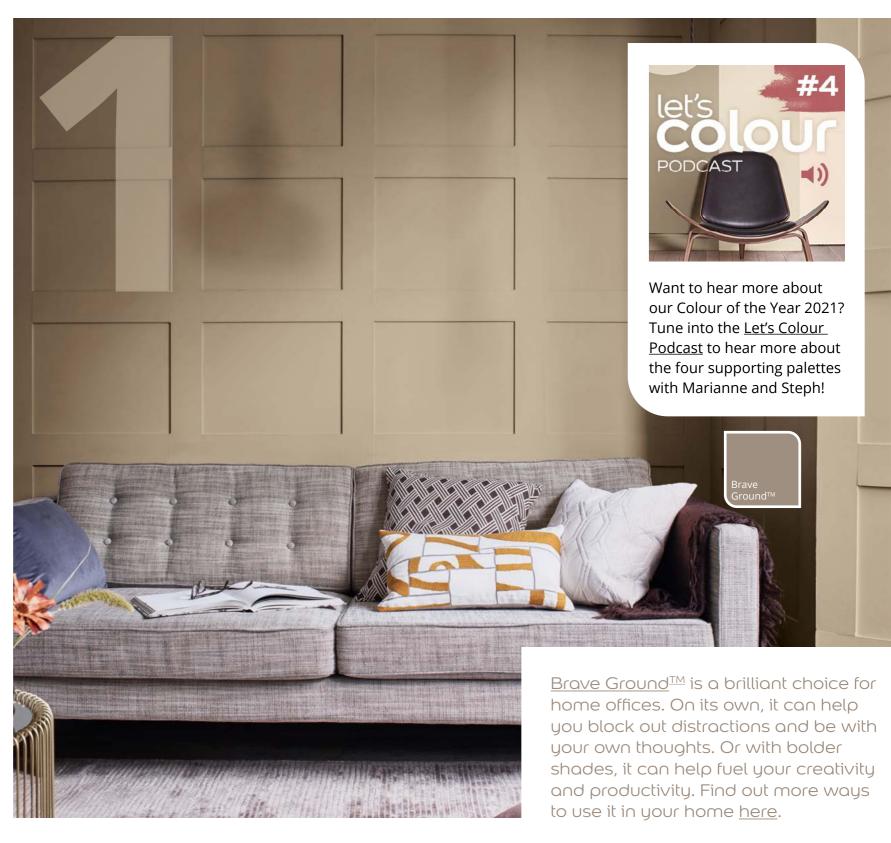

Every year, our colour experts choose a shade that reflects the mood of the moment. For 2021, that colour is Brave Ground^{IM}.

When the world feels unsteady, this bolstering shade has been carefully selected to neutralise and balance our homes. Its warm, earthy tone connects us back to nature and brings us closer to the simple things.

Whether you seek calm and comfort in your home, or the courage to embrace change, Brave Ground™ creates feelings of stability, growth and potential.

And with its four supporting colour palettes – Expressive, Timeless, Truth and Earth – you can be brave enough to start again.

JAPANDI

Create your own zen

As the name suggests, the Japandi trend is a hybrid of Japanese and Scandi interior design – and is one of the most sought-after looks this year.

Despite being oceans apart from where they originated, the two styles share key similarities. Both revolve around minimalism and value functionality. They create clean, calm spaces for you to live and work in.

The purpose of Japandi is to bring you the best of both worlds. The sleekness, elegance and tranquillity of Japanese design with the comfort, versatility and rustic elements of Scandinavian design.

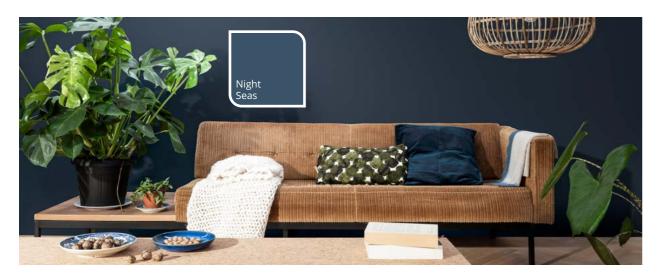

A Japandi colour scheme relies on neutral, earth tones. Whether you're designing a minimalist dining room or minimalist bedroom, we've got a range of colours from Blush Pink to Indigo Shade that create the perfect backdrop for any Japandi-inspired room.

Introduce deeper shades of green or blues to add interest to your room — perhaps try a contrasting colour on a feature wall or painted furniture?

Earth Shades

Setting the tone for 2021

It's no wonder earth shades are dominating the decorating world right now. Cinnamon browns, terracotta tones, putty greys. They're all warm and welcoming colours that provide the perfect backdrop and antidote to our busy lives.

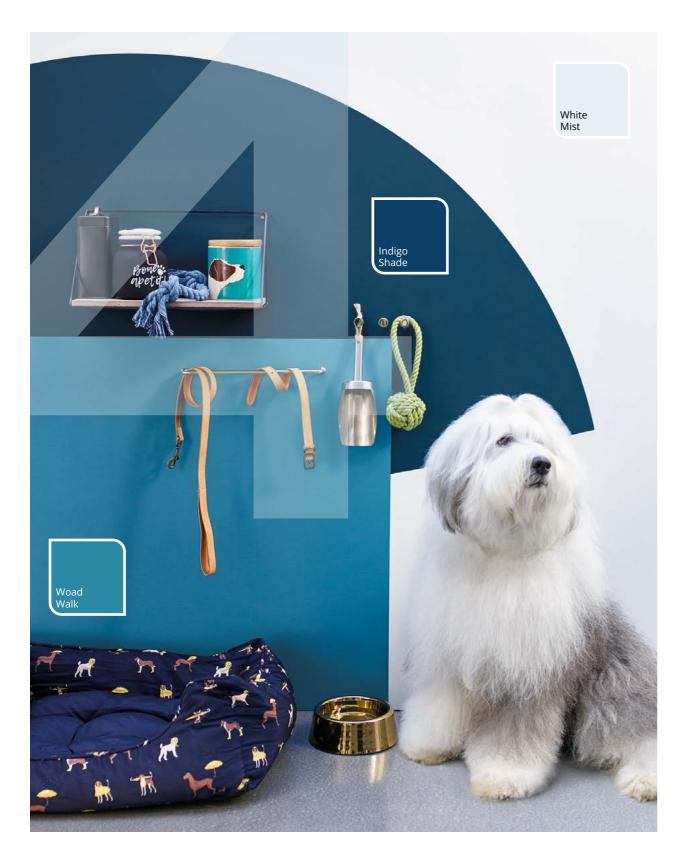

Earth shades create soothing, safe spaces for you to live and work in. For a harmonious colour scheme, layer our Colour of the Year 2021, Brave Ground™, with similar neutral tones found in its Trust palette.

Earth shades are wonderfully versatile, too. Their easy-going nature means they let other shades shine. You could pair Brave Ground™ with darker shades from its Earth palette for a more interesting look.

Curved shapes

Reinventing feature walls

A feature wall is simply a wall that looks different to others in a room. We love this interior trend because it lets you experiment with colour, patterns and shapes.

For 2021, there's a new, friendlier way for you to embrace feature walls: curved shapes. It's a step away from the sharp, diagonal lines that are used for geometric wall designs – but just as impactful.

Painting a colourful arch on a blank wall will supercharge your space. You'll add interest and energy to a room that was once tired and lifeless.

Home offices

Make WFH work for you

It will come as no surprise to you that home offices are a top trend for 2021.

As more and more people are working from home, the demand for dedicated workspaces and study zones has risen – and continues to do so.

With the right colours, you can turn almost any area of your home into an office that ignites creativity and encourages productivity.

Transform under your stairs with the smart and sophisticated Denim Drift to help channel your thoughts and aid concentration. Or zone-off an area of your bedroom with warm neutrals, like Brave Ground™, for a quiet, peaceful place where you can spend most of your day.
